

Tues., May 24, 1977 3C.
ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH

Letters

Opening Mail

About the lady who is suing the Government for opening the mail between her and her fiance in Russia: No amount of money, she said on television, can make up for her anguish at finding that the CIA had been reading the words she meant only for her friend.

Before they knew the CIA was opening their mail to and from Russia, did these injured parties imagine, I wonder, that it was not being opened at the Russian end?

St. Ann

Margaret May

STAT